

She Feels

Jorja Smith

You know it feels good to know
I know she feels good to know
Years going fast
The memories come back when I feel alone

I've been on fire, but I woke up
I said can't look for me 'cause it's all burnt down to dust now
Said you'd look for me when you woke up
And can't say a thing when it's gone now
Guess she don't have love for me no more

They think that they know me here
But I know you'd know I haven't quite been myself for years
Could I say you've been holding back these same tears
Or should I worry that you're someone that I've never known?
Never known

'Cause I know I've been seeing you in all these places
'Round these familiar faces
I hope you're good for favours
But you remember me
Will it ever be us going back to basics?
I'm tired of all the fake shit
Seen all your sides, your phases

You know it feels good to know
I know she feels good to know
Years going fast
The memories come back when I feel alone

I've been on fire, but I woke up
I said can't look for me 'cause it's all burnt down to dust now
Said you'd look for me when you woke up
And can't say a thing when it's gone now
Guess she don't have love for me no more

Didn't mix up my words
You don't get what I said
No, it wasn't working
It wasn't worth it
No, I know I've done my best
I know I tried and you loved it
What have you done for me?
Where are we now?
What have you done? Oh

'Cause I know I've been seeing you in all these places
'Round these familiar faces
I hope you're good for favours
But you remember me
Will it ever be us going back to basics?
I'm tired of all the fake shit
Seen all your sides, your phases

You know it feels good to know
I know she feels good to know
Years going fast

The memories come back when I feel alone

I've been on fire, but I woke up

I said can't look for me 'cause it's all burnt down to dust now

Said you'd look for me when you woke up

And can't say a thing when it's gone now

Guess she don't have love for me no more
