

Visions

José González

Visions

Trying to make sense of the now
Trying to make sense of the past
To show us how

Visions

Imagining the worlds that could be
Shaping a mosaic of fates
For all sentient beings

Visions

Cycles of growth and decay
Cascading chains of events
With no one to praise or blame

Visions

Avoidable suffering and pain
We are patiently inching our way

Toward unreachable utopias

Visions

Enslaved by the forces of nature
Elevated by mindless replicators
Challenged to steer our collective destiny

Visions

Look at the magic of reality
While accepting with all honesty
That we can't know for sure what's next
No we can't know for sure what's next
But that we're in this together
We are here together
