

Even When Yer Blue

Joseph Arthur

You take a stand
On everything you do
But if you reach out your hand
I come to you

And when you are sad
Remember no one gets it easy
And though it ain't half bad
Still no one's gonna right your wrong
Find you a home
Soften up your heart of stone
Even when you're blue

Everyone's got
Something to hide
Quit being who you are not
On the inside

And when you are sad
Remember no one gets it easy
And though you ain't half bad
Still no one's gonna right your wrong

Find you a home
Soften up your heart of stone
Even when you're blue

I come to you
I come to you
I come to you

Where will you go
Creeping past
This life seems to move slow
But it's over so fast

And when you are sad
Remember no one gets it easy
And though you ain't half bad
Still no one's gonna right your wrong
Find you a home
Soften up your heart of stone
Even when you're blue
