

The Knockout

Joseph Arthur

It's the end of the world
We can see it coming
They have most of us running
But they can't take our souls
If we come to his mercy
Where the darkness keeps us thirsty
For a love that we're afraid to know
Real salvation
Don't miss the train leaving the station

Baby
What ya gonna do with your life
They can't really ever make us fall
They can't really ever make us fall
Baby
What ya gonna do with your life
We can change the writing on the wall

It's a new day now
Letting go of the past dear
How we over come the old fear
And nothings gonna knock us down
But if we fall we'll leave no doubt
That we'll keep swinging for the knock out

And baby
What ya gonna do with your life
They can't really ever make us fall
They can't really ever make us fall
And baby
What ya gonna do with your life
We can change the writing on the wall
We can change the writing on the wall
Baby
What ya gonna do with your life
They can't really ever make us fall
They can't really ever make us fall
What ya gonna do with your life...
