You've Been Loved

Joseph Arthur

You don't know how you feel Are you a dream? Are you for real? Cause you don't ever slow down To find what you lost or lose what you found No one's saying what you need to hear You've been loved It's always hard to admit Most days you feel like you don't exist Temptation sneaks past your fists Until the devil won't let you resist Oblivion is what you want But you've been loved What you're gonna do with your life? You've been loved (all the way) You've been loved (all the way) You've been loved (all the way) You've been loved