

Looking Back

Joseph

They make umbrellas for rain
Signs for wrong ways
Night lights to leave on
Locked gates
To keep your heart safe
To never feel pain
No risk, no harm done

Now I'm watching all the people move in sync
Like they all know the song
Why can't I dance along?
Wanna be a flower floating in a creek
Let the water run
Take me where it wants

I'll let come what's coming
If it's good, if it's bad
Feels good to feel something
I've done a whole lot of running
Went looking for something that was already looking back

My doubts like loud angry mobs
Screaming I'm wrong
Saying I'll strike out
Slow it down
Let it be a mess
Forgive and forget
The end's where you start now

Wanna be a flower floating in a creek
Let the water run
Take me where it wants

I'll let come what's coming
If it's good, if it's bad
Feels good to feel something
I've done a whole lot of running
Went looking for something that was already looking back

The ink is fading on the page
Plans I made for days I know won't come
What was all the worry for
The only thing I have for sure is now
Right now

I'll let come what's coming
If it's good, if it's bad
Feels good to feel something
I've done a whole lot of running
Went looking for something that was already looking back
Went looking for something that was already looking back
