

Crazy Things

Josh Abbott Band

Crazy things
You say you couldn't live without me
You say crazy things
Like no one else could make you happy
And sometimes I laugh out loud
At how ridiculous that sounds

Crazy things roll off your lips
As innocent as honey drips
And you whisper I'm all you'll ever need, soft and sweet
Crazy things, like you feel blessed to have me in your life
But I confess, I think I'm the lucky one
Oh, you say crazy things

Like I'm the one you've always prayed for
I'm the key that came and unlocked your door
Your saving grace

Crazy things roll off your lips

As innocent as honey drips
And you whisper I'm all you'll ever need, soft and sweet
Crazy things, like you feel blessed to have me in your life
But I confess, I think I'm the lucky one
Oh, you say crazy things

And sometimes I laugh out loud
At how ridiculous that sounds

Crazy things roll off your lips
As innocent as honey drips
And you whisper I'm all you'll ever need, soft and sweet
Crazy things, like you feel blessed to have me in your life
But I confess, I think I'm the lucky one
Oh, you say crazy things
You say crazy things
