

EMPTY THREATS

Josh Baldwin

There's a lifetime of lies I believed
Made some choices that don't look like me
Took the long road but I know the difference between
A promise and talk that is cheap

Cause I'm not a prisoner anymore
Might lose a battle but I won't lose the war
Your Word is my weapon Your love my defense
All the devil has to offer me is empty threats

When I look down I'm still on my feet
Gotta a heart in my chest that still beats
Gotta a call on my life and a purpose in me
You're giving me strength to believe

That I'm not a prisoner anymore
Might lose a battle but I won't lose the war
Your Word is my weapon Your love my defense
All the devil has to offer me is empty threats

Empty like the grave where the Son of Man was laid
My fear is the stone that was rolled away
And all that remains is the freedom from my shame
Heaven has come and it's broken my chains
Broken my chains

Cause I'm not a prisoner anymore
Might lose a battle but I won't lose the war
Your Word is my weapon Your love my defense
All the devil has to offer me
There ain't nothing he can offer me now
But empty threats
Empty threats
Your Word is my weapon Your love my defense
All the devil has to offer me
Is empty threats
