

Hide Myself

Josh Baldwin

You are my refuge, You're my strength
You hold me up when I am weak
You are the wings that cover me
You are my rock, You are my peace

And I will hide myself in You
In the shadow of Your wings
I will hide myself in You
And You will be my strength
You will be my strength

A thousand may fall by my side
And ten thousand more at my right
But You are my fortress, You're my home
You are my Father, You're my Holy Ghost

And I will hide myself in You
In the shadow of Your wings
And I will hide myself in You
And You will be my strength
You will be my strength

Oh, and when the storm comes, I won't be shaken
'Cause I am anchored in Your hope
And when the storm comes, I won't be shaken
Oh, 'cause I am anchored in Your hope

And I will hide myself in You
In the shadow of Your wings, yeah
I will hide myself in You
And You will be my strength
You will be my strength

You will be my strength
You will be my strength, oh

Oh, I will hide in You
I will, I will hide in You
My Father, my cover, and my shelter
I will hide in You, oh
