

It's Finished Now

Josh Baldwin

Oh I am a sinner, a man in need of grace
But I have a Savior who chose to take my place
He was quiet when they brought Him
No, He did not make a sound
Well the Son became an offering
Took His life and laid it down

They hung Him on a tree with arms stretched out
He died for me, His love poured down
The debt was in my name, and no fault was found
'Cause He paid it all, so it's finished now
It's finished now

Louder than the sound of my failures
Louder than the noise of my regrets
I can hear the melody of heaven
I can hear the song of promises
Who is working through my weakness
And He's present in my doubt
'Cause He said He'd never leave us
Well, He's with me even now

Yeah, they hung Him on a tree with arms stretched out
And He died for me, His love poured down
The debt was in my name, and no fault was found
He paid it all, it's finished now
It's finished now

Oh, oh
The debt was in my name, and no fault was found
'Cause He paid it all, and it's finished now
Oh, it's finished now
Oh, it's finished now
Oh, it's finished now
