With You

Josh Groban

Sometimes I remember reasons I let you go Inside them I see your face and all I really know I was scared to share the love I have inside of me Through all the heartache I know that I was meant to be With You I have everything I've ever wanted Simple and true With You Crying eyes so beautiful It's You Who always thought our love would see us through If I could follow my heart again it would be yours With every breath I would find a way to love you more I can't imagine life without your silent bravery And I'm grateful for every moment that I get to be With You I have everything I've ever wanted Simple and true With You Loving eyes so beautiful It's You Who always finds a way And if the stars should disappear In the dark I'll still be here Forever in your arms where I belong With You I have everything I've ever wanted Simple and true With You Loving eyes so beautiful It's You Who always knew our love would see us through
