

Believe

Josh Kelley

Its a feeling thats coming over me
The thoughts that I cannot believe Things that you can only see if you believe

Places have all turned to grey
And your favorite toy doesnt play
And the past fades to whisper today if you will say

I will live a better day
The past is all gone
Live life like a melody
placed in the song
No one can stop me now
the past is all gone
And now I can see

Decide to watch time pass you by
And listen to the trials of your mind Cuz the truth is its all just a lie that you believe

Theyve all seemed to come back to you
And the rights have a different point of view
And the past asks a question of who will you believe

I will live a better day
the past is all gone
Live life like a melody
placed in the song
No one can stop me now
the past is all gone
And now I can see

Feeling their faces all placed in your head
With a new found solution sleeps with you in bed
You bring me the rain and you bring me the moon
And I cant remember the days though

I will live a better day
the past is all gone
Live life like a melody
placed in the song
no one can stop me now
the past is all gone
And now I can see

This feelin is comin over me
And thoughts that I cannot believe Things that you can only see if you believe
