

Family Tree

Josh Kelley

You're the handprint
And I'm the concrete
I will keep you
Safely with me
So when you walk down
Those unfamiliar streets
You'll know
Right where I'll be

These roots run deep
Like this love in me
No matter how high you climb
Or how hard you fall
You can always come home to me
And rest in the shade
Of your family tree

You know I gave you
That heart on your sleeve
So when it breaks you
You can blame it on me
You gotta follow wherever it leads
And if you should lose your way you know

These roots run deep
Like this love in me
No matter how high you climb
Or how hard you fall
You can always come home to me
And rest in the shade
Of your family tree

More than blood
Or flesh and bone
You will always be my own

Cuz these roots run deep
Like this love in me
No matter how high you climb
Or how hard you fall
You can always come home to me
And rest in the shade
Of your family tree
