Finally

Josh Record

There's a smile across your face
That flickered out and died away
They put your body in the bag
And leave you
When the night has had it's fun
Fed your eye and wet your tongue
And you spoil for a post to fix to.

Finally I see
Nothing alive
Can quench my desire but you
Finally I see
Nothing in sight
To quench my desire but you

Turn my pocket smash my jars
Pull apart the family drawers
I lay my hand for the wait of silver
Bought a banquet ate it all
It grew heavy like a stone
I was parched at the bed of the river

But finally I see
Nothing alive
Can quench my desire but you
Finally I see
Nothing in sight
To quench my desire but you

I will spend the endless night
Wrapping up against your door
I will long for nothing else
I will long for nothing more
I will spend the endless night
Wrapping up against your door
I will long for nothing else
I will long for nothing more,

Finally I
Finally I
Finally I see
Nothing alive
Can quench my desire but you
Finally I see
Nothing in sight
To quench my desire but you.
