

Waiting On You

Josh Ritter

Honey don't you know I want you
Honey don't you know I love you
Is there anybody haunts you
Or does the things to you that I do
Is there anybody knows you
Half as good as you want them to
And what are you keeping me waiting for
You got me waiting on you

Just a little bit of twilight
Just a little bit of moonlight
I been waiting all day for
Just a little bit of late night
And a little bit of high life
Just a little bit of alright
And what are you keeping me waiting for
You got me waiting on you

I been working on the line, girl
I been getting what's mine, girl
I been waiting all day for
Just to get a little time, girl
Can you give me kinda sign, girl
Tell me everything is fine, girl
And what are you keeping me waiting for
You got me waiting on you

Honey I been down
Just a little more lost than found
Just a little more sorrow bound
But I know what to do
Been hanging round
Watching the sun go down
Here come the lights of town
They're waiting too
They're waiting on you

Honey don't you know I want you
Honey don't you know I love you
Is there anybody haunts you
Or does the things to you that I do
Is there anybody knows you
Have as good as you want them to
And what are you keeping me waiting for
You got me waiting on you
