

New Me

Josh Ross

(I'm just the same old)

You left the key, you slammed the door
That red wine stain laying on the floor
You cut me deep, you cut the cord
You made it clear you don't want me anymore

Ooh, you told me call you if I ever found a better me
Ooh, you wanted someone that was someone I'd never be
I would never be

Girl, I wish I could say I was a new me
Making all of the changes that you wanna see
To be honest, baby, I ain't changed a damn thing
Same bar stool, same old burning it down
Ain't it crazy how we were so close?
Looking at ya now, girl, you'd never know
You're out there acting happy, like ya never knew me
I'm just the same old, ain't no new me

(I'm just the same old)

You'd take me back if I came crawling back
Said it would be different if I cleaned up my act
I ain't no liar, baby, I know you're tired, baby
These boots run up and down town every Friday

Girl, I wish I could say I was a new me
Making all of the changes that you wanna see
To be honest, baby, I ain't changed a damn thing
Same bar stool, same old burning it down
Ain't it crazy how we were so close?
Looking at ya now, girl, you'd never know
You're out there acting happy, like ya never knew me
I'm just the same old, ain't no new me

Yeah, I'm just the same old, ain't no new me

(I'm just the same old)

Ooh, you told me call you if I ever found a better me
Ooh, you wanted someone that was someone I'd never be
I would never be

Girl, I wish I could say I was a new me
Making all of the changes that you wanna see
To be honest, baby, I ain't changed a damn thing
Same bar stool, same old burning it down
Ain't it crazy how we were so close?
Looking at ya now, girl, you'd never know
You're out there acting happy, like ya never knew me
I'm just the same old, ain't no new me

(Ooh, you told me call you if I ever found a better me)
Yeah, I'm just the same old, ain't no new me
(Ooh, you wanted someone that was someone I'd never be
I would never be)
