

Nobody From Nowhere

Josh Ross

I don't deserve this
Take a good look around, it worked out close to perfect
I think I finally found my purpose
Spent so much time wondering if it'd be worth it
Hell, it was worth it

'Cause I'm just nobody from nowhere
Whole lotta nothing with something to prove
Four bald tires, half a tank, and Momma's prayer
A world to gain and nothing to lose
65 South and a dog in the front seat
Hometown left in the rear view
Who'd've ever thought I'd ever made it out of there?
I'll tell you who, nobody from nowhere

Could've gone so much different
Could've folded a thousand times with the hand I was given
But I didn't

All the lessons learned, every bridge I burned
I bided my time, I waited my turn
Poured my soul into every single word
Way past the point of no return

'Cause I'm just nobody from nowhere
Whole lotta nothing with something to prove
Four bald tires, half a tank, and Momma's prayer
A world to gain and nothing to lose
65 South and a dog in the front seat
Hometown left in the rear view
Who'd've ever thought I'd ever made it out of there?
I'll tell you who, nobody from nowhere
Ooh, nobody from nowhere

I bet you never heard of my hometown
Bet you never thought that I'd get out
Didn't look back, I didn't slow down
And who I was then is who I am now

'Cause I'm just nobody from nowhere
Whole lotta nothing with something to prove
Four bald tires, half a tank, and Momma's prayer
A world to gain and nothing to lose
65 South and a dog in the front seat
Hometown left in the rear view
Who'd've ever thought I'd ever made it out of there?
I'll tell you who, nobody from nowhere

Nobody from nowhere
