Red Flags

Josh Ross

I think that we lost it somewhere in the toxic
Looking for options, looking for signs
If were being honest, we should just call it
But, baby, you're calling me over tonight

In and out, then and now, we can't let go
We break up, we make up but we both know
That somehow we lost it in all of the toxic we can't quit

What if I'm bad for you?
What if you're worse for me?
How many times do we have to go back and forth for one of us to see
That nobody's right in this, we both got shit
We both brought our own baggage
What if we're both, what if we're both red flags?

I keep trying to get back before all the set backs
But I think we get that it never was right
Where's the proof of the truth this is something good?
Just 'cause we want it doesn't mean we should

What if I'm bad for you?
What if you're worse for me?
How many times do we have to go back and forth for one of us to see
That nobody's right in this, we both got shit
We both brought our own baggage
What if we're both, what if we're both red flags?
Yeah

What if we forgive each other?
Give up and just be runners
Some things ain't meant to be, like you and me

What if I'm bad for you?
What if you're worse for me?
How many times do we have to go back and forth for one of us to see
That nobody's right in this, we both got shit
We both brought our own baggage
What if we're both, what if we're both red flags?
What if we're both, what if we're both red flags?
What if we're both, what if we're both red flags?
