

Ugly Stories

Josh Rouse

Farewell, bye bye
The sorry look in your eye
It doesn't mean a thing
So long, we shared beds
Now it comes to an end
With such a saddened eye

'Cause I've heard stories
Ugly stories that no one can deny
They were true
They were true

While I was away
You were workin' every day
Or so it seemed
Phone calls, regrets
Everyone placed bets on odds
I couldn't see

'Cause I've heard stories
Ugly stories that no one can deny
And I've heard stories
Ugly stories that no one can deny
They were true, they were true
They were true, they were true

Believe in your doubts
Because I found out
You can never trust in anyone
And here in the south, I call you out
You can never trust in anyone
It's not for all

Next time, you're in town
Don't bother coming around
You're not welcome anymore
Unfair, so unkind
To have wasted my time
On such a silly dream

'Cause I've heard stories
Ugly stories that no one can deny
And I've heard stories
Ugly stories that no one can deny
They were true, they were true
They were true, they were true