

One More Shot Of Whiskey

Josh Ward

I've been hangin' with the devil, I've been right down on his level
And I drink his wine night after night
I've tried Jones and I've tried Haggard, tried to find somethin'
'sadder
It helped a little bit, but it took too much time
I've only found one thing that comes close

I need one more shot of whiskey
'Cause I know that's all it takes for me
To drown out your damn memory
And help my heart not hurt this way
But I won't know it did the trick until it hits me
I need one more shot of whiskey

If it takes a month of Sundays, I'll get over you someday
Say to hell with you and I'll find someone too
But tonight I'm in trouble, and I might start shootin' doubles
Catch a quick fix buzz and call you up
So as long as Tennessee makes 90 proof
I need one more shot of whiskey

I need one more shot of whiskey
'Cause I know that's all it takes for me
To drown out your damn memory
And help my heart not hurt this way
But I won't know it did the trick until it hits me
I need one more shot of whiskey

I've only found one thing that comes close

I need one more shot of whiskey
'Cause I know that's all it takes for me
To drown out your damn memory
And help my heart not hurt this way
But I won't know it did the trick until it hits me
I need one more shot of whiskey

One more, one more, one more, one more shot of whiskey
