

Promises

Josh Ward

Well I see you standin' with that look in your eyes
Straight shot of tequila, blow in cigarettes smokin' lights
Lookin' that way and crawlin' around this bar
All alone someone's waitin' at home wonderin' where you are
You know what you're doin' and you know that it ain't right
So how many promises are you gonna break tonight?

How many promises are you gonna break tonight?
Runnin' around here hangin' on to every man in sight
Honesty and faithful can't fit in a dress that tight
So how many promises are you gonna break tonight?

That golden band on your left hand just don't mean a thing
Playin' it cool with another fool, actin' like a neon queen
Thinkin' about later tonight in that motel room
Singin' along to that same old song, who's cheatin' who
You slipped off that ring with one thing in mind
So how many promises are you gonna break tonight?

How many promises are you gonna break tonight?
Runnin' around here hangin' on to every man in sight
Honesty and faithful can't fit in a dress that tight
So how many promises are you gonna break tonight?

This ain't the first time and it won't be the last
You come in once again once again showin' off your class

How many promises are you gonna break tonight?
Runnin' around here hangin' on to every man in sight
Honesty and faithful can't fit in a dress that tight
So how many promises are you gonna break tonight?
How many promises are you gonna break tonight?
