

The Devil Don't Scare Me

Josh Ward

Preacher used to preach about fire and brimstone
I was shakin' in the shoes in the pew I sat on 12 years old, afraid of where I'd go
10 years later wonderin' how I got here
Where neon burns and they sell cold beer
Heaven seems so far away

'Cause ever since the night she left me
Ain't a damn thing that can help me
I've tried prayin', I've tried whiskey
It's livin' hell wishin' she'd missed me
No I ain't afraid of dyin'
'Cause I lost the one thing I was livin' for
Now the devil don't scare me anymore

Thunder in the sky used to get my attention
Now when lightnin' strikes it only gets me wishin'
That it'd strike me, but I ain't that lucky
A curve in the road used to slow me down
Now I'm 90 miles an hour two wheels off the ground
It can't hurt me now

'Cause ever since the night she left me
Ain't a damn thing that can help me
I've tried prayin', I've tried whiskey
It's livin' hell wishin' she'd missed me
No I ain't afraid of dyin'
'Cause I lost the one thing I was livin' for
Now the devil don't scare me anymore

No I ain't afraid of dyin'
'Cause I lost the one thing I was livin' for
Now the devil don't scare me anymore
Devil don't scare me anymore
Devil don't scare me anymore
