

Don't Let Go

Josh Wilson

It's hard to believe You right now,
Questions keep crowding You out
And I'm falling in love with my doubts instead of You

If I could start over again,
And choose how I want to begin
What would I put my faith in, would it still be You?

Don't, let go, God I'm begging You
Don't let go, when I question You
We both know, I'm no good on my own
So don't, let, go

A night when I can't fall asleep
From wondering just what it all means Answers are not what I need, what I need is You

Don't, let go, God I'm begging You
Don't, let, go, when I question You
We, both know, I'm no good on my own
So don't let go

Why can't this be easy, just plain black and white Why can't I believe like I did as a child cause I just don't feel You tonight

Don't let go, God I'm begging You
Don't let go, we both know,
You don't let go.
You don't let go.
You never let me go.
Oh no, no, no.
