

Don't Come Again

Joshua Burnside

Well the first place that I met my love it was at a ball
I looked at her, I stared at her, far above them all
But aye she looked on me with scorn and disdain
And the bonnie wee lassie's answer was to no come again
Was to no come again
And the bonnie wee lassie's answer was to no come again

Well the next place that I met my love it was at a wake
I looked at her, I stared at her, I thought me heart would break
But aye she looked on me with scorn and disdain
And the bonnie wee lassie's answer was to no come again
Was to no come again
And the bonnie wee lassie's answer was to no come again

It being six month after, a little or above
When Cupid shot his arrow and wounded my true love
He's wounded her severely which caused her to complain
And she wrote to me a letter saying: You might come again
Saying: You might come again
And she wrote to me a letter saying: You might come again

Well, I wrote back her an answer for to let her know
While life was in me body 'twas there I would nae go
While life was in me body and while it does remain
I will aye mind the girl who said: Don't come again
Who said: Don't come again
Yes I will aye mind the girl who said: Don't come again

So come all you pretty fair maids a warning take by me
Never slight a young man wherever he may be
For if you do you're sure to rue and cause you to complain
And you'll aye rue the day that you said: Don't come again
You said: Don't come again
Yes you'll aye rue the day that you said: Don't come again
