

War On Everything

Joshua Burnside

She said I feel lonely when I'm with you
Lonely when I'm with you
Because when you're with me
You're not with me
You're with everybody else

Killed a million things tonight
Flat to the mat in the dusty light
Just to have you to myself again
I would've waged a war on everything

Do you remember when we first met
It was like something from a film
You were passed out on the balcony
Undisturbed by the cacophony
Of Paris in the morning
Into the mystic blaring out
Of a party long abandoned
Save for a few true never enders

And we were off to the cold coast
Where old ghosts are often heard the most
She said you think you're smarter than you are
I said I'd trade it all to know you more
Then at the margin of the ocean
Waves crashing in the dark
Screaming mister tambourine man
I loved what I knew of you then
You loved what you knew of me then

Become a stranger
To myself
To myself

She said I feel lonely when I'm with you
Lonely when I'm with anyone
Like those old ghosts
You sing about
Well that's how I feel now
Like a vampires reflection
In a mirror far away, if you could only see me again
Only see me new again
Yes I'd wage a war on everything
Yes I'd wage a war on everything

On everything
On everything
On everything
