

Lovers Without Love

Joshua James

This road has over taught me lessons about my lonely soul
i am young and getting wiser, soon i will grow old trip my heart from misconceptions fill my eyes with grief let me make my own connections in this endless sea.

oh muscle, cars, and endless bars, and shopping centers for the teams.
high price propane and crack cocaine,
and lovers without love like me.

i see so much my visions blurry, in the world i live if we're to change them we must hurry, the devil's moving in.
love and hate can not see colors,
like the human eyes,
so priests and preachers, parents teachers, don't act so damn surprised its the world we've made and living in of greed lust and poverty, of war and pride, teen suicide,

and lovers without love like me from topless dances to Marilyn Manson and lovers without love like me.

theres kids in gangs we have coveted fame we have sweat shops across the sea we have abortive mothers, we hate each other

theres lovers without love
like me
