

The Greatest Secret

Joss Stone

I've got the greatest secret in the world
I've got the greatest secret in the world

I've got the greatest secret in the world
I've got the greatest secret in the world
No one would believe me even if I told
So let your suspicions go
There's one thing that you should know
It's that I've got the greatest secret in the world

Now
If the truth can be told
This life is just way too cold
For our beautiful secret to unfold
I won't break the spell, no
I won't ever, ever let you know

That I've got the greatest secret in the world
I've got the greatest secret in the world
No one would believe me even if I told
Let your suspicions go
There's one thing that you should know
That I've got the greatest secret in the world

You've heard many stories that I can't control
But one thing I can tell you is I've never ever sold my soul
So our wonderful secret can grow
So don't fuck with my fairytale
We won't ever, ever let you know

That I've got the greatest secret in the world
I've got the greatest secret in the world

I've got the greatest secret in the world
See, I've got the greatest secret in the world
I've got the greatest secret in the world
Oh, and I'm keeping it to myself
Just me and my fairytale
