

Down

JOY.

Feel like I'm new to this
Living on borrowed time
And you've got a sense for it, it's Something that blows my mind
Back on the old timeline
You were always that guy
And now that the future is all mine
We could just spend it together

All my walls, they are breaking
Picture this, you just tore them down
What a rare situation
For this light to be finally found

So, are you down for me?
For me
So, are you down for me?
For me

Down for me
For me

I put my all in this
But I don't want a broken heart
I'm scared to lose my grip
I've already played that part

All my walls, they are breaking
Picture this, you just tore them down
What a rare situation
For this light to be finally found

So, are you down for me?
For me
So, are you down for me?
For me
