

Couldn't

Joy Again

Do do do doo
I couldn't take it back if you wanted me to
And even if I stay awake, holding on my breath
Would you still love me to death?

Do do do doo
I couldn't hold it up if you wanted me to
And when my knees buckle beneath all the pressure
Would you still remember?

How I would be right there when you wanted me
How I could stretch my arms so wide that I can hardly breathe
Breathe, breathe, breathe

How could I even trust that you need me to
Of course at first it's my mistake
And it made us ache
But we still came out the same

Do do do doo
I can go away if you need me too
I'm sure there's always better things that I shouldn't see
They're haunting me

And I would be right there when you wanted me
How I could stretch my arms so wide that I can hardly breathe
Breathe, breathe, breathe

Too stoned, gotta think about it twice
My head hurts, I won't get no sleep tonight
You're gone, but I think about you nightly
I hope you can stay and still be happy
