Joy Again

Too many hopeful rays, I'm broken up like glass
The pieces are glued into someone that's holding back

But just when you forget the rain, it comes down
A thousand times worse than the last time you found
You rose a rouse, stop fooling me, I'm easily deceived
Getting tired of waking up and forgetting all my dreams

Sleeping through the only chance you get to go
Now you're enclosed in plastic and foam

Jeez, I don't even know what to think
Spending up all the time drinking from the sink
I sold all my sweetest memories, but kept ones where you were m ean
And traded my success while laying in the green

Just stop waiting for something incomplete
Could we count on landin' in the trees?
Little machine inside of me, explain why she reads
As something so complete
