

Time to Make a Change

Joy Denalane

Been sitting here thinking
With my head hung low
Just tryin' to figure out
What is gonna be
It's been about a year and a month
I'm living in a black hole
This misery has held me down
For too long
I'm so tired of being stressed out
Vexed and depressed, my God
Tell me lord where I gotta go

Yes, yes
'Cause it's time to make a change
I know, I know, I know
'Cause I'll never be the same

It's the trials of life
That make a woman grow strong
You should never let your mind tell you
That you failed
Just will it to happen and it can be done
If you're having a dream
Then you gotta make it come true
Sure we're like crabs in a barrel
Everybody tryin' to make a come up
And at the same time
Pullin' each other down
But I got to make a breakout
Gotta make a breakout, someway
And let love show me the way

Yeah, yes
'Cause it's time to make a change
I know, I know, I know
I'll never be the same

Oh no, it's time to make a change
We will never be the same
Never gonna be the same, be the same, no
It's time to make a change, yeah
Oh baby, 'cause I'll never be the same.
