

GOODBYE

Joy Oladokun

I'm not ungrateful
I'm just getting tired
Of finding a smile and a silver lining
Three cheers for the faithful
But there can be some pride
In walking away when the feeling's right

It's only goodbye
You know it's been said billions of times
Who knows what waits for us at the end of the fire?
Just let it burn
It's only goodbye

Tell me, what's the point of waking up and feeling like I need a drink?
Tell me, was it ever really love
If it's not meeting our needs
If we're so scared of where the truth leads?

It's only goodbye
You know it's been said billions of times
And who knows what waits for us at the end of the fire?
Just let it burn
It's only goodbye

It's only goodnight
It's only Godspeed
I hope you find the light
Find the light

It's only goodbye
You know it's been said billions of times
And who knows what waits for us at the end of the fire?
Just let it burn
It's only goodbye
