

Don't Try

Joyce Manor

In your town on your street
In each room of your house
In your bones and your teeth
You're so tired you can't sleep

Sometimes I feel so far away
I missed you so much today

In your car the back seat
The stale taste the dry heat
We might live we might die
You can't win so don't try

Sometimes I feel so far away
I missed you so much today

Sometimes I feel so far away
I missed you so much today

Sometimes I feel so far away
I missed you so much today
