Cocoon

Joydrop

If I should choose to live in my cocoon
Wrap myself in me and cry myself to sleep
If I should choose to protect my tender heart
Build a shell from you steal myself from you

If I should choose to fall apart
Don't you think you should let me
If I should choose to die alone
You should forgive and forget me

If I decide I can't do it anymore
Try to be so hard I'm trying to be so fucking hard
If I should choose to keep lying to myself
Pretend my mind is telling truths
Well I've got my own so who are you

I know I know I know

If I should choose fall apart
Don't you think you should let me
If I should choose to die alone
You should forgive and forget me

If I should choose to fall apart
Don't you think you should let me
If I should choose to die alone
You should forgive and forget me
You should forgive and forget me
You should forgive and forget me
