

Frozen

Joyner Lucas

Damn, this is not alright
How the fuck I end up on the other side of life
No more hanging with my friends, no more riding bikes
No more brushing barbies hair, no more flying kites
No more school, no more learning for me
No more youth, no more juice
No more hula hoops or Suzy Q's
Wish I could kiss my momma bye (Joyner)
And if she ever see me like this, she be traumatized
No this is not alright, but nothing is (shit)
I barely got to live, I'm just a kid
Look at me, look what you fucking did
I'm fucking dead (damn)
No this wasn't even my fault, now I'm speaking with the lights off
I don't think they hear me
It ain't no more tv, no more dancing
No more sleepovers or no candy
No more camping
No more kisses from my daddy 'cause I left and died
All because this stupid bitch wanted to text and drive

Smashing, watch the glass fly
Ain't no way, ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah
We're frozen in this moment
Ain't no way, ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah

Auto pieces, oil leaking, dripping gasoline
Door is open, windows broken, glass shattered dreams
Holy bibles, open beer bottles at the scene
Now look at us
No more coming home from work and cooking dinner for my man
No more praying for my sins, no more stuntin' on the 'Gram
No more Thanksgiving holidays or pictures with the fam
No more vacation plans to everywhere I've never been
It's all gone now
Look what you did (look what you did)
Damn
I should have never got inside your car
I should have stayed at home or just went shopping at a different store
I should have waited or just called an Uber, but I live too far
No more tantrums and ain't no more questions, no more answers
No more homework with my daughter, no more second chances
No more baby in my belly, sad to say we died
All because you choose to drink and drive
Why?

Smashing, watch the glass fly
Ain't no way, ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah
Frozen in this moment
Ain't no way ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah

I've always been a one for challenges and different thrills
Open alleys while I'm speeding, that shit gives me chills

Hitting corners, riding fast and that shit's really real
My momma always said if I don't chill that shit gon' get me killed
It's too late (too late)
I say goodbye
No more driving reckless thinking I won't pay the price
No more taking life for granted I just wasted mines
Oh my God, I just died trying to race and drive

Smashing, watch the glass fly
Ain't no way, ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah
We're frozen in this moment
Ain't no way, ain't no way you can go back
Float away, float away, float away-ay-yeah
