Rumors, they don't mean nothing
Whispers, they don't mean nothing

They're just (rumors, whispers)

You think I'm shallow, but I don't think you've seen enough to know

I wish you knew me way back when, the way it was before
I wish the old me could show you all the things I've done
So I told you, I hope the future holds a place where everything's exactly as it was

Substance, it's gotta count for something
Expectations, they don't mean anything
