

The Inversion

Joywave

Oh it's sad to watch it happen
Push and pull have given way to shove
The inversion has begun
Up is down and left is right
Don't think too hard, thought's in short supply
There's nowhere left to run

Two tabs, pay your ransom
Your conversion's here, there's a new anthem
As you fall inside, but it looks just like your home

Two tabs, that's some bad shit
Yeah your "Breathe" tattoo isn't helping one bit
As you fall inside and the vapor turns to stone

The darkest part of every mind
Unchained and free, seeking out its kind
The inversion's finally come

Black is white and day is night
No logic here, you do not decide
Your will will not be done

Two tabs, pay your ransom
Your conversion's here, there's a new anthem
As you fall inside, but it looks just like your home

Two tabs, that's some bad shit
Yeah your "Breathe" tattoo isn't helping one bit
As you fall inside and the vapor turns to stone

Tell me, don't lie
Tell me, don't lie
Tell me what's left of the other side to save
Nothing there remains

Tell me, don't lie
Tell me, don't lie
Tell me what's left of the other side to save
Nothing there remains

Two tabs, pay your ransom
Your conversion's here, there's a new anthem
As you fall inside, but it looks just like your home

Two tabs, that's some bad shit (tell me, don't lie...)
Yeah your "Breathe" tattoo isn't helping one bit
As you fall inside and the vapor turns to stone

Two tabs, pay your ransom (tell me, don't lie...)
Your conversion's here, there's a new anthem
As you fall inside, but it looks just like your home
