Bits and Pieces

JP Cooper

I was in bits, I was in pieces
Covered in silence and concrete
People walked by, no one could hear me
Nobody knows what's underneath

Somehow, you found me
And now you're

Patchin' up the cracks and holes
Fillin' in the gaps with gold
You said you're never givin' up on me
I see your, fingerprints around my soul
Fillin' in the gaps with gold
You said you're never givin' up on me

You built a home
You built a home
You built a home
From the pieces of a broken man
You built a home
You built a home
You built a home
From the pieces of a broken man

I was bent down under my feelings
I've been down, dear, since the roof caved in Cryin' out loud, kickin' and screamin'
I'd given up until you walked in

Somehow, you found me
And now you're

Patchin' up the cracks and holes
Fillin' in the gaps with gold
You said you're never givin' up on me
I see your, fingerprints around my soul
Fillin' in the gaps with gold
You said you're never givin' up on me

You built a home (yes, you did)
You built a home (built me up, yeah)
You built a home
From the pieces of a broken man
You built a home (yeah, you did)
You built a home (from the pieces)
You built a home
From the pieces of a broken man

(You built a home) patchin' up the cracks and holes (yes, you did)
(You built a home) fillin' in the gaps with gold (from the pieces)
(You built a home) you said you're never givin' up on me (oh-oh-oh-oh)
(You built a home) I see your, fingerprints around my soul (yeah, you did)
(You built a home) fillin' in the gaps with gold (from the pieces)
(You built a home) you said you're never givin' up on me (from the pieces of a broken...)
