

Learn From The Landscapes

JP Cooper

I couldn't find the words
To make you smile at me the way you used to
And I couldn't find the chords
To make you talk with me the you used to
So I'll find new pleasures in my day
Like running in the rain
Let it wash my sorrows
To the ground again
And I'll walk for hours
Through the woodlands that never stay the same
And I'll learn from the landscapes that everything must change
I'm sailing in stormy weather
I'll put myself back together
So I'll set off walking and I'm heading straight into the sun
And I'll pick my bags up and
I'll run turn that walk into a a run
And I'll see more clearly
I'll turn that frown into a smile
And I won't be impatient
'Cos I know these things take a while...
I'm sailing in stormy weather
I'll put myself back together
I know I can be strong
I can be anyone
I've done nothing wrong
My lifes just beginning
So I'll find new pleasures in my day like running in the rain
And I'll learn from the landscapes
That everything must change
