

Waiting On A Blue Sky

JP Cooper

There's a silent war that everybody fights
And I know there a storm going on in your mind
And a thousand worries keep you up at night
There's always something that dims your light

Don't pay no mind to your fear, it's a lie
I'll keep a place for you here while you're waiting on a blue sky
Sooner or later, I know your tears gonna dry
Why don't we dance in the rain while we're waiting on a blue sky?

Meet me in the pouring rain
I'll show you how to dance again
Teach me how to keep the faith
The world can be a lonely place
Meet me in the pouring rain
I'll show you how to dance again
Teach me how to keep the faith
The world can be a lonely place

There's a voice inside that says you're not enough
And the weight of the world gets too much
When you're feeling like nobody hears your prayer
You know I see you, you know I care

Don't pay no mind to your fear, it's a lie
I'll keep a place for you here while you're waiting on a blue sky
Sooner or later, I know your tears gonna dry
Why don't we dance in the rain while we're waiting on a blue sky?

Meet me in the pouring rain
I'll show you how to dance again
Teach me how to keep the faith
The world can be a lonely place
Meet me in the pouring rain
I'll show you how to dance again
Teach me how to keep the faith
The world can be a lonely place

Don't pay no mind to your fear...
