

Apologize

Jr. George Tandy

I was out of line, so out of touch
I was out of hope, stopped believing in us, I was out of confidence for all these years, so out of control, I use your love as a crutch, then out of the blue you was out o f my reach out in the world trying to find your own wings.
I'm out of a game plan,
out of excuses, out of my comfort zone, I'm willing to sacrifice, I apologize

Cause of you I am wide open,
and I'm hoping you would,
come and try something new Cause I've changed, and clearly you've changed some bad and som e good.
So whenever you're ready its cool.

I know you're out of patience, out of pity, out of tears of trying from to figure me out, so out of respect I will stay out of your business, out of your way until I figure me out. I might be out of my hea d, a little out in left field but I'm so sincere there's no more mystery, I'm ready to sacrifice. I apologize

Cause of you I am wide open,
and I'm hoping you would,
come and try something new
Cause I've changed, and clearly you've changed some bad and som e good.
So whenever you're ready it's cool.

I was out on the road, I was hitting the town, was out with them girls I was fucking around.
Failed to see the woman for me was already holding me down.

I know you're out of sympathy, out of solutions is there a way we can work this thing out, I'm out of distractions know you want is action just give me a shuttle and take us both out, I said I don't need it but I need it, ooh girl for your loving I'm ready to sacrifice, I apologize

Cause of you I am wide open, and I'm hoping you would, come and try something new
