

Young Forever

JR JR

She said she always wants to dance
What if that actually makes sense
The more you learn
The less you feel the moment
As it's happening
But close your eyes
Recognize

I know somewhere there's someone
Holding a candle for me
When the land is dark
I know there is always
A light I will see
So I'm staying young forever
Staying young forever

Look out this window all the time
And never noticed that the sky
Looks like an ocean
Floating upside down over the canyon
And I realize
So do your eyes

I know somewhere there's someone
Holding a candle for me
When the land is dark
I know there is always
A light I will see
So I'm staying young forever
Staying young forever

I don't need a voodoo doctor
To cast me any spells
I don't need
To live beside the ocean
In order to stay open myself

Still I know somewhere there's someone
Holding a candle for me
When the land is dark
I know there is always
A light I will see
So I'm staying young forever
Forever
Staying young forever
Staying young forever
Staying young forever
Staying young forever
