

Reset

JRDN

And all the times you've forgiven me
Time and time that I've done wrong
Empty promises you believed
Believe but never saw

See I'm a man with a broken dream
A dream of you and I
But with all my selfish lies
It never materialized

Goddamn it!
Cause now you're standing dressed in all white
The bride of some other guy
But there is no reset
When it comes to regrets

I've been everywhere on God's green earth
And I've never had nothing more precious than her
And if I could do it over again
I'll be her lover
Her man and best friend
But there is no reset
When it comes to regrets

And I ain't even mad at you
Even though this is killing my pride
And I feel like I'm dying inside
I still wish you the best in life

I hope there are brighter days ahead
Cause right now it's dark as night
I need clear and sunny skies
To start to materialize

Oh I'm damaged!
To see you standing there in all white
The bride of some other guy
But there is no reset
When it comes to regrets

I've been everywhere on God's green earth
And I've never had nothing more precious than her
And if I could do it over again
I'll be her lover
Her man and best friend
But there is no reset
When it comes to regrets

If I could back in time
Redo, rewind, retry
I will love you better eh
And put you first like the letter A

I miss you so bad
Girl if I could take it all back
I'd be waiting while you walked down that aisle

I've been everywhere on God's green earth
And I've never had nothing more precious than her
And if I could do it over again
I'll be her lover
Her man and best friend

I've been everywhere on God's green earth
And I've never had nothing more precious than her
And if I could do it over again
I'll be her lover
Her man and best friend
But there is no reset
When it comes to regrets
