I'd trade it for you

Sons, you my baby, you my heartbeat
Catch you when you falling
You got a problem, baby, call me
Them niggas playing, baby, call me
I don't understand what he did to you
Know that every day, that I was missing you
Supposed to protect you but I feel like I failed
I always promised you that I would be there

Listen Tre, I know you listen
Just know whatever that you wanting that you getting it
Your daddy tried to play the game with me, I finished it
Just can't believe he brought your innocence up into this
And you the reason I never could give up
Didn't know what to do and baby, I was so young
Remember what I told you: chest out, chin up
They can try to break you down, but don't you give up
I made a big mistake
And then, they tried to take you away
No matter how far, baby, I'm on the way
I'm making the way
And it really pains me to say
That I'm the only one you could blame

Sons, you my baby, you my heartbeat
Catch you when you falling
You got a problem, baby, call me
Them niggas playing, baby, call me
I don't understand what he did to you
Know that every day, that I was missing you
Supposed to protect you but I feel like I failed
I always promised you that I would be there

Tre, you my hero, you got superpowers
No matter what they tell you, you got superpowers
You so strong, you stronger than me
How strong?
As strong as could be
Lullaby, you would fall asleep
Sing to you, hold you close to me
One, two, three
Four, five, six
Know your mama pulling up before you get to ten
I'm sorry that it happened but it won't happen again
But they said that everything that happens, man
Put it in God's hands, he the one to handle this
What he did to you, forgive don't forget

Sons, you my baby, you my heartbeat
Catch you when you falling
You got a problem, baby, call me
Them niggas playing, baby, call me
I don't understand what he did to you

Know that every day, that I was missing you
Supposed to protect you but I feel like I failed
I always promised you that I would be there
