

Things Are Looking Up

Judah & the Lion

As for me my last year sucked
I was gonna make a couple zillion bucks
But I stayed home and twiddled my thumbs
I guess that's just the way it goes
Seasons come that make you grow
And then sometimes you'll find a little luck

Things are looking up
Things are looking up

I hope love and peace you'll find
After all your painful times
And life feels lighter than you could ever know
And I'd give you a billion hugs
Just to say that you're enough
And these hard years just took you to higher bluffs

Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up

I hope love and peace you'll find
After all your painful times
And life feels lighter than you could ever know
And I'd give you a billion hugs
Just to say that you're enough
And these hard years just took you to higher bluffs

Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
Things are looking up
