

After The Opera

Jude York

It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Get me going, get me going then you cut me off
Keep me singing the same sad song

You're walking with your drama
Throw your jacket on the floor
Seems like all we got is problems
Should've left 'em at the door
Everybody sees us
Yeah we put on quite the show
But no one sees the tragedies
We write when we're alone, ooh

It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Get me going, get me going then you cut me off
Keep me singing the same sad song
I'll be better, I'll be better when the music's gone
It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Curtains closing on your opera

I hate the way you tease me
Get me wound up just to leave me
Every night's another circus
All theatrics with no purpose
Sorry I'm not sorry
I won't play along tonight
Won't listen to your symphony
It's time to say goodbye

It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Get me going, get me going then you cut me off
Keep me singing the same sad song
I'll be better, I'll be better when the music's gone
It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Curtains closing on your opera

The tears roll down your eyes
We'd both be better on the other side

It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Get me going, get me going then you cut me off
Keep me singing the same sad song
I'll be better, I'll be better when the music's gone
It's a rhythm when you break my heart
Curtains closing on your opera
