

Break-Up Song

Jude.

I am a man
Tell me if I'm doing wrong
I would rather you be gone
Than to be hanging on
Please understand
This is not a game I play
I believe in anyway
No matter what you say

This is our breakup song
And even when we got along
I know that something so good can't be true
This is my last confession
Ever since my first impression
I was planning to abandon you

Open your heart
Here's the part where I pretend
My devotion doesn't end
And we can still be friends
Playing the part
Put your makeup on just right
I will take you out tonight
There is no need to cry

This is our breakup song
And even when we got along
I know that something so good can't be true
This is my last confession
Ever since my first impression
I was planning to abandon you

Open your eyes
While I present the prize
No one changes even though we hope they will
Now walk away
Do not waste another day
This is your life
This is not a drill

This is our breakup song
And even when we got along
I know that something so good can't be true
This is my last confession
Ever since my first impression
I was planning to abandon you

Cause I know that something so good can't be true
