

Tears

Juice WRLD

Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest
We'll be happy some day
Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest

Tears, I hate it when you drop tears
You telling me 'bout last year
I don't wanna say that I don't care about the past, but I don't
But who am I to talk?
All my good songs got my ex involved
I'm throwing shade with a lil' pinch of salt
Yeah, I know you're right, I'm wrong
Everything's all my fault, right?
Our relationship is on the fault line
Ain't gonna be an earthquake this time
We'll be fine

Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest
We'll be happy some day
Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest

You're with me everyday, that's a sunny day
Even when it's rainy, even when it's stormin'
You make the clouds go away
Yeah, if I said forever then I meant it, it, it
You know that I struggle with addiction, 'tion, 'tion
You know you're my number one addiction, 'tion, 'tion
That I can't get rid of

Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest
We'll be happy some day
Put your hand on my chest
Tell me that it's okay
I'll handle the rest
