

False Reality World

Juicy J

Dependent personality disorder is sort of this pervasive And excessive need to be taken care of It's characterized by passivity
Of a fear of being left to take care of oneself
Of a fear that one can't make their own decisions
Or a real sense of inability to make any kind of significant decision for themselves
They often can be quite clingy