

Alright

Juke Ross

If they asked if you knew
Would you tell them it's true? Am I the only?
I could never lie to you
You'd always see straight through, I swear
And if you walked in my shoes would you feel like I do?
I bet you'd be lonely
'Cause you've got them questions down in you
That I don't have the answers to
Where are we going?

All I know is it's gonna be alright
It's got to be alright
Though you've been on my mind darling
It's gonna be alright

Staring up at the moon
Though I still think of you and the page in our story
What was I supposed to do?
Never thought I would lose, now I'm perfectly lonely

All I know is it's gonna be alright
It's got to be alright
And though you've been on my mind darling
It's gonna be alright

It's gonna be alright
It's got to be alright
It's gonna be alright
It's gotta be alright
It's gonna be alright
It's got to be alright
It's got to be alright
And though you've been on my mind darling
It's gonna be alright
It's gonna be alright

If they asked if you knew
Would you tell them it's true? Am I the only?
